Had you ever thought about what an all around good ticket stands at the head of this column?

The Crittenden Record suffered severely from the terrible fire which recently visited Marion, but made its appearance a little ahead of time last week, somewhat smaller but brimful of news and incidents of the fire.—Evansville Courier.

We would feel ungrateful if we did not express our thanks to the management of the Hopkinville New Era for the arrangements they have made to publish the Record for us until we get in our new quarters. We also wish to thank the editor of the Princeton Chronicle for offering us the use of his office.

The Crittenden Record, whose plant was destroyed in the big fire at Marion last week, made an extra effort and by having their paper printed in a neighboring city, they did not miss an issue, for which they deserve credit.—Lyon County Times

The Madisonville Progress is the name of a Republican newspaper just launched at Madisonville, edited and published by J. T. McDonald, formerly of the Princeton Chronicle and later the Hopkinville Messenger. The paper comes out in the form of a seven column folio, is well edited and shows a splendid patronage on the part of local advertisers.

The Cadiz Informer is a creditable weekly published at Cadiz, Ky., by Rev. W. H. McRidley, president of the Cadiz colored Normal and Theological college. It should be read and patronized by colored people everywhere. Its editorials are strong and enlightening. Our local colored people could well afford to patronize the Informer, and if a sufficient number will interest them selves we feel sure that the paper will gladly publish local items furnished by the colored people here.

We appreciate the many compliments we have received on account of our efforts to furnish our patrons with the Record every week regardless of our misfortune in the fire. We have not missed a single number and by the substantial assistance that we will receive at the hands of our faithful subscribers from time to time—the patriotic and liberal minded sons of "old Crittenden" wherever they go, the days may come and go and the Record will abide with us still.

It will be only a few weeks until new and better buildings will spring up on the burned district of our little city. The Record's new plant will be ready to install when its new building is ready for occupancy. Then the Record will surpass its past standard of excellence. Its present reduced size is a forerunner of something better, and our readers will doubtless appreciate the obstacles under which it is now published.

"Thomas Jefferson wrote: 'Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to favor the latter.' A government without the press would be a government without publicity, and a government without publicity would soon become a government of corruption. Though its power is often abused by the unscrupulous, with an intelligent people, able to discriminate between the true and the false, the press, in spreading the truth, exercises a most potent influence for higher and better citizenship."—Gov. Folk.

The determination to succeed and the enterprising spirit possessed by the merchants and business men of this city, all of whom shared losses either directly or indirectly in the recent fire, is evidenced by the manner in which they continue to place their business before the public. When you glance at our advertising columns you will appreciate the true worth of this statement.

The City Council deserves credit for the position it has taken with reference to frame or iron-clad buildings. They have ruled that neither of these shall be constructed for even temporary purposes. This action will meet with the approval of the entire citizenship of the city.

JOHN F. GAYNOR AND HIS FIGHT FOR LIBERTY.
John F. Gaynor and Benjamin D. Greene, whose case has been put back to its original status, were indicted for fraud in connection with the work done in the Savannah river, Greene and Gaynor fled to Canada, and after a sensational series of legal fights were released by order of Judge Cron. Then the representatives of the United States government appealed to the privy council of Great Britain, which decided that the case must be reopened from the beginning.

COMPOUND INTEREST
The trouble with most advertisers is that they expect immediate returns of large proportions. One prominent advertiser illustrates the principle of advertising in this way:
"The money expended for advertising is the same as if placed at interest. The profits from the advertising are virtually the interest on the investment."
"The sums spent for advertising are properly chargeable to capital account because the resulting good will is something that has value, which, if the advertising has been properly done, can usually be sold for the face value of the investment."
"The rate of interest is determined by the skill with which the investment is made."
"Just as the quickest way to increase invested wealth is by compounding the interest, just so the quickest way to realize results from advertising is to compound the returns."—Advertising Experience.

THE JUICY GRAPE.
Its History is Well Nigh as Old as That of Man.
The history of the grape is almost as old as that of man. Growing in its highest perfection in Syria and Persia, its luscious fruit recommended it to the especial care of the patriarchal titlers of the soil, and vineyards were extensively planted long before orchards or collections of other fruit trees were at all common.
The grape came originally from Persia. From the latter country as civilization advanced westward this fruit accompanied it—first to Egypt, then to Greece, Sicily, Italy, Spain, France and then to Great Britain, to which latter country the Romans carried it 200 years after Christ.
To America the seeds and plants of the European varieties were brought by emigrants and colonists the first fifty years after its settlement.
There are a vast number of varieties of grapes, but there are really only about a dozen varieties good for the table. California produces the Tokay, Muscat, Black Prince, Malaga, etc., while the eastern states produce such varieties as the Concord, Catawba, Niagara, Delaware, Black Hamburg and Isabella.—New England Grocer.

In After Years.
"Women are certainly changeable creatures," said the weary looking man.
"What's the explanation?" asked the friend of the family.
"During our honeymoon," answered the weary party, "my wife declared she could not live a day without me."
"Well?" queried the family friend.
"Only last week," continued the other, "she tried to get me to insure my life for $10,000 in her favor."—Chicago News.

A Time Limit.
"I'm afraid you smoke too much for your own good," said the physician.
"Well," admitted the patient, "I do smoke almost continuously from morning till night."
"Why do you do that?" asked the M. D.
"Because it's the only time I have to smoke," replied the victim. "I have to sleep at night."

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.
Dear Sir:—I have been troubled with bladder and kidneys for the last 20 years, having doctored with many different physicians in that time, with no results. I was given a bottle of Dr. Fenner's Kidney Backache Cure, which I did not know was the only medicine that ever gave me health today. I will heartily recommend Fenner's Remedy to any one suffering with their bladder or kidneys. Besides it is a most pleasant to take.
